

The pre-planned revision did not change in merit the main poverty index, neither in its level nor its trend

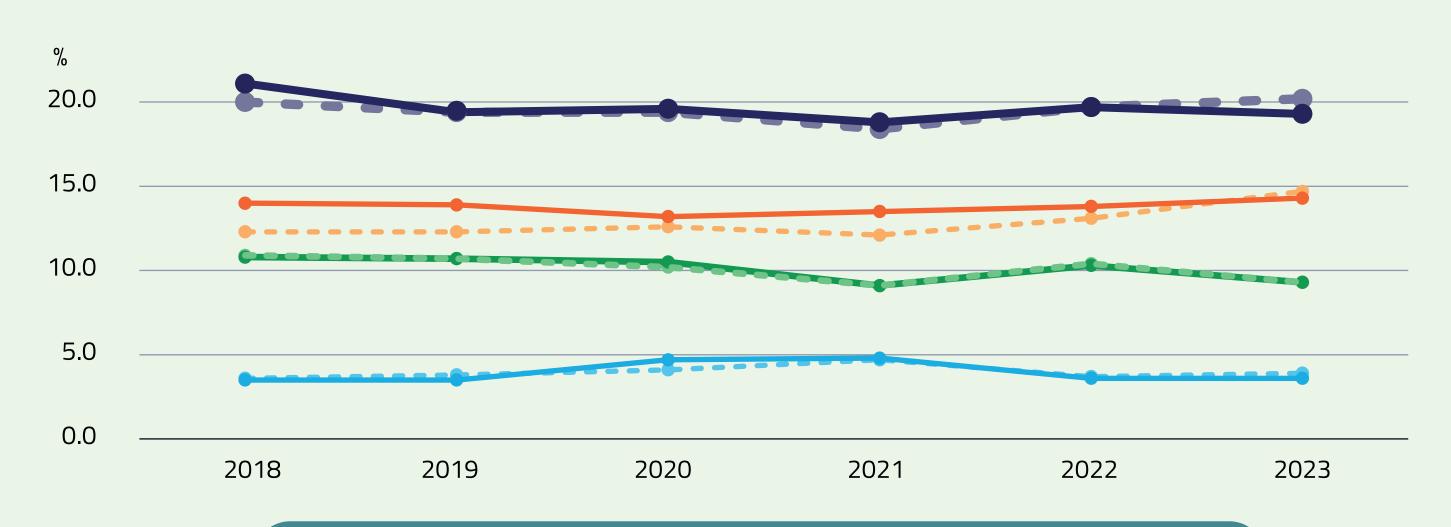

Change in value of the complex poverty index remained within the sampling margin of error in each revised year (2018–2023)

The change in proportion of those at risk of poverty or social exclusion in Hungary as a result of the planned revision

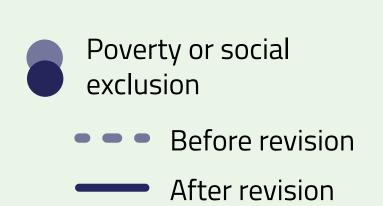

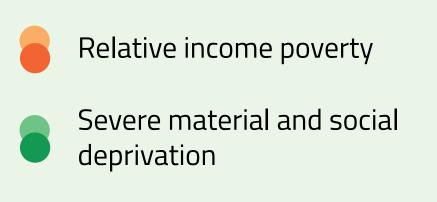

The trend of poverty indices did not change

Dimensional change of poverty or social exclusion as a result of the revision

Only the relative income poverty index changed in merit (by maximum 1.7 percentage points) out of the components of the complex index as a result of the income distributions' fine tuning.

Very low work intensity

